Since I heard about this show a few years ago, I have been meaning to make the trip there to check it out. Located on the grounds of the Buffalo History Museum, it is a nice setting for a show, lots of shade available, and a good amount of parking for participants. And the big plus, you can tour the History Museum if you like, free of charge, to check out their displays. Especially the Buffalo sports history display.

This year Cadillacs were prominently displayed right out front, as well as not one, but two Buffalo Built Playboy automobiles. I expected to see some rare vehicles there, and was not disappointed. A vintage Lambert brass era car was parked next to a Pierce Arrow, and a pair of vintage Packards were present as well. A Fiat Multipla was on display, a rare item to see, I don’t think many of them survived. A little bit of everything was there, Rods, Corvettes, Muscle cars, Classics, turned out to be a great show. There were plenty of tall awards given away, but the “Best of Show” award actually stood 6 feet tall. I wonder if a small car won that one.

Easy to get to, right off the Scajaqueda Expressway at the corner of Elmwood and Notingham Terrace. A nice easy drive into and out of downtown, bordering Delaware Park.

This year’s show is August 11th.

Spring seems to have come early here on the Niagara Frontier and it has most of us automobilists chomping at the bit to get out on the street. A little soaking rain to wash that nasty salt off the pavement so you guys with the fancy classics don’t risk corroding those shiny parts. Personally, the most likely ways someone’s going to see under my dropped Pontiac is if I happen to run you over. Just kidding. Although I appreciate the hard work involved to detail a chassis, I run on the road too much to keep it up, so mine is just basic satin black.

Speaking of the open road, this is the time of year to plan out some road trips. We have some great indoor shows that are lots of fun but a car was meant to be driven and enjoyed. Before long the local cruisers will be out wandering the roads and stopping at their favorite watering holes. Many of us have a regular spot to hang with our buds but I want to encourage you to find a place you haven’t been to. You folks in the Southern Tier need to come up to Niagara County on a nice evening, and visa-versa. There are lots of nice people to meet and new sights to see right here on your doorstep.

That being said I want to wander off on a thought that has bothered me for a while. Having been involved in the hobby for more years than I care to remember, I have met many great people and feasted my eyes upon some absolutely tremendous cars, trucks and motorcycles. The talent, artistry and vision found in these vehicles never ceases to amaze me. The hours spent not just executing the build but the months, no, years spent learning the skills and developing the talent is impressive to say the least.

So here’s the rub. I recently got to attend an art show that had painting and sculpture displays by various local artists. I’ve known some of these people for a long time through my wife. A couple of her friends are into the art scene and create some interesting stuff. But when confronted with a piece of rolling art I find some of them to be very dismissive of the automotive artists as just body shop technicians. I don’t expect to change any hearts or minds but I wanted to share how interesting it is that such diversely talented people can hold each other in such low regard. OK, enough grumpy stuff.

As some of you may know, I do vintage automobile electrical wiring repair and harness installation and over the past year and a half I’ve gotten to meet some very interesting people, see some very cool storage/garage buildings and get intimate with some really neat cars. I am a life long motorhead and if I had Jay Leno money, I would have a Jay Leno collection. Since I’m just a semi-retired blue collar type going to people’s houses and fiddling around with their pride and joy, I’m enjoying as many great machines as old Jay himself.

It never ceases to amaze me the number of vintage autos tucked away in garages and warehouses across the fruited plain of Western New York. Drive down any street and look at all the closed garage doors. You have no idea how many Camaros, Mustangs, Shoebox Fords, Model T’s, etc. etc. sit behind those barriers. Some are ready to go, complete machines, some are projects in progress and some are left, being saved for the next passionate owner. I will never own many cool rides but I get to work on them, learn about them and often the owners share some very interesting histories of their cars.

Some of these relics have been handed down from generation to generation, some have been resurrected and many have been cherished and enjoyed by the same owner for decades. I’ve seen some cars that haven’t seen the light of day for years and some that get driven almost daily in the good weather. I’m a lucky guy getting to immerse myself into the car community almost daily.

This summer promises to be a good one and I can’t wait for the roads to be salt free and beckoning us to throw open those garage doors and head out into the sunshine. It seems the season is sometimes over before it starts so I’m not wasting any time this year. I’ve already seen some bikers, a ’55 Chevy and a Model A sedan hot rod and that got me even more motivated.

Summer is on our doorstep and we need to embrace all it has to offer. Car shows, cruises, and festivals await as many organizers have worked hard all winter to provide an opportunity for us to gather and share our passion. So, pull off the cover, if you haven’t already, check the oil, and tire pressure, fire old Betsy up and let her idle as the engine warms, then put her in gear and head for the street and a waiting adventure. The freezing season is over, hurrah!

Until next time I’ll be out on the road.

WATERMARK WESLEYAN CHURCH

As friends, neighbors and classic car guys, Brian Smith and Gary Wiest started talking last year and were thinking about how to use their hobby as classic car enthusiasts to serve their community. They often thought that there could be a bigger purpose served when a couple hundred car owners got together for a cruise-in.

In speaking with friends and staff members at their church, Brian and Gary quickly realized that there was a need in the community to assist with vehicle repairs. Seeing an opportunity to utilize their hobby to reach out and help others in their community, they formed Genesis Garage in the Fall of 2018.

Genesis Garage is an affiliate ministry/charity of the Watermark Wesleyan Church (Hamburg, NY). The mission of Genesis Garage is to provide subsidized vehicle repairs and services for distressed families, single parents, widows, elderly, veteran families and others in the community who need assistance.

As we all know, servicing and repairing vehicles can be costly, a brake job can cost hundreds and transmission repairs can cost thousands. Brian told me “there are those in our community who simply do not have the resources to adequately maintain or repair their vehicles. A costly vehicle repair can be a crisis for many, so who better to assist these people than the car enthusiast community.”

“Through Genesis Garage we can do our part to help distressed families or individuals with their vehicle repairs so that they may stay on track, retain employment, remain productive, care for their children or dependents, and in many cases, preserve their independence,” said Gary.

Genesis Garage has teamed up with local technical partners who will perform the actual vehicle repairs. These partners include Steve Hudson, the new owner of Dave's Automotive in Orchard Park, NY, together with Tom Nicotera and Joe West from TransMaster Transmission in South Buffalo.

Genesis Garage is officially launching their 2019 Fundraising efforts by sponsoring a series of Saturday morning Cruise-in Events, the first is scheduled for May 4, 2019 (see cruise calendar or poster ad in this issue on page 13 for all dates/times). These events will be held at the Watermark Wesleyan Church (main campus) located at 4999 McKinley Parkway, Hamburg, New York.

And yes, coffee and food will be available! T-shirts and caps will also be for sale with proceeds going direct to Genesis Garage.

You can make a cash or check donation at any of the cruise-in events or you can mail your donation direct to Watermark Wesleyan Church (make checks payable to Watermark Wesleyan Church and note Genesis Garage).

You can also donate on-line at: www.watermarkwesleyan.com/outreach/genesisgarage.

Hope to see you there!

HAS SPRING REALLY SPRUNG

Well we finally made it into April without any major snowstorms. In fact the most damage done this winter was due to a high wind storm that caused power outages, tractor trailers to tip over and the closing of major highways.

But now the weather is turning better and garage doors are being opened, and the summer rides are being prepped for their maiden voyage into the cruise season, that is after we get some good rain to wash off the salt laden roads on which we travel. My neighborhood had the roads recently re-paved with beautiful blacktop, but so much salt was laid down you can’t see a hint of black. They are pure white, so needless to say we need some good rain.

Believe it or not, we did have a couple of teaser warm days in March and the motorcycles were out in force, which reminds us to take notice and be more observant so we can keep their riders safe as well.

HEMMINGS ARTICLE

I get Hemmings Magazine online and saw a very disturbing article. As many know, the Englishtown Raceway in New Jersey closed last year. This was a very popular and busy track that housed many nation NHRA events over the years. I lived in New Jersey for five years before moving to Buffalo and spent many a weekend at the track and their big flea market. To hear that it closed was a shocker. But you always felt that there was a glimmer of hope that someone would come along a rescue it.

That glimmer of hope disappeared the other day when I saw a photo of a pile driver breaking up the track. Another icon, which is just a memory.

ANY NEWS

Speaking of race tracks, I haven’t heard any more news about Lancaster Speedway since it was mentioned on the news about local attorney, Paul Cambria looking to purchase the track. Not even a rumor on social media. I hope negotiations are going well as we really need to keep Lancaster open.

CALIFORNIA NOISE LAW

Can any state be more screwed up on their priorities than California? With all their drug, violence, gang and disaster problems, their state legislators have the time to concentrate on a minor issue like exhaust noise. An ordinance was passed recently on how law enforcement would issue citations for excessive exhaust noise.

Signed into law in 2018 by Governor Jerry Brown excessive noise was treated by law enforcement. Violators used to get a “fix it” ticket. Instead, violators now get an immediate fine. Thanks to two legislators who are sympathetic to the car hobbyist, they have introduced a bill to rescind the immediate fine and reinstate the “fix it” ticket. If your vehicle is under 6,000 pounds, except motorcycles, your exhaust noise level cannot exceed 95 decibels even if it factory installed. What does that mean for New Yorkers? Well if the “Green Deal” gets strong support, we can expect similar legislation to be introduced right here in our own backyard. Spread the word.

ALDEN, NY

The Alden Car show has long since come into their own and is no longer referred to as the Marilla show, that is until I reminded you. But in all seriousness, this has become one of the shows to attend in the summer.

Held on the grounds of the Alden Central School, this show spills over onto front yards and side streets around the school. People who own homes around the school welcome the car enthusiasts to park on their lawns and support the show promoters.

The show features music, food, commercial and local vendors, Chinese auctions, 50/50 raffle and this years guest will be Lou Santiago from the TV show Car Fix.

The date for the 2019 show is Sunday, July 28th. Check out their website, www.aldenautoshow.com for much more information and online registration.
